

Who benefits from an online interactive school locator?

Families

Parents are used to instant access to information 24/7. It shouldn't be hard to find district data on school boundaries, bus stops, and even directions to schools. Streamline how families connect to your district through a school locator platform.

School Administrators

Relieve your office staff of fielding repetitive phone calls. A web-based school locator can decrease inquiries from the community and requires no manual updates.

School Leaders

Be better prepared for long-range school planning sessions. A school mapping platform can help administrators and planners process and visualize data in an easier, more effective way.

Communities

School locators improve communication and foster involvement in student education by connecting the community to the information they need. It's one easy way to build a bridge between your district and the community.
